

CWA Gidgegannup Branch – Newsletter June 2018

CWA was invited to attend the Anzac Service, hosted at Gidgegannup Primary School. The children were a credit to the school and themselves. The bugler was outstanding. Even the rain didn't deter the beautiful singing of the school choir. The rendition of the anthem and class song was fantastic. The service was attended by many dignitaries, as well as 10th Light Horse. CWA was asked to make a wreath for the P & C to present. We made this and ours with olive tree branches and local wildflowers. The 'Shrine of Remembrance' was engulfed in the wreaths presented by all classrooms and visitors. A delightful morning tea was provided in the library, which gave way to interesting conversations with representatives from ANZAC House and Shire representatives. We have decided to keep the tin poppies which are adorned around the village up until after the 11th November. This is to commemorate the fallen and end of World War 1.

By the time this goes to press, the Small Farm Field Day will have been and gone and we trust you all had a lovely day looking at everything that the show had to offer.

We hope that if you came and had our scones, jam and cream, or the home-made soup, you enjoyed them along with browsing through our craft stall, which we have all been very busy getting it all put into place and there was something you loved and bought as the handiwork which we had was delightful.
